

Our Pastured Certified Organic Chicken

Customers tell us our birds taste like “real chicken” and that they are flavorful, tender and delicious. We hope you’ll agree!

Please reserve birds for this season by June 1st for a $.25/pound savings.
Pre-ordering is appreciated, but not required.

We have frozen chicken at Farmers’ Markets and at our Farm Store almost year round.

Pricing & Payment Details:

Whole Chicken Price: $6.50/pound [with pre-order by June 1st]
$6.75/pound retail

Our chicken’s average weight is 5 pounds per bird, but can range from 3-6 pounds.
You can choose your preferred size at pick-up.

Ordering birds from more than one butcher date? Or want to pick up a few at a time?

We will keep a tally of the weight of the birds you pick-up and settle the balance after you have all your birds.

Our birds are certified organic by NOFA-NY, LLC. We feed only certified organic grains from Lakeview Organic, Penn Yan, NY.

The grains are grown without chemical fertilizers, pesticides or GMOs (genetically modified organisms).

Why are pastured birds so darn pricey???

Certified organic grains cost three times as much as conventional chicken feed and pasture based poultry methods are very labor intensive.

How We Raise Our Pastured Chicken:

Two-day old chicks arrive from a hatchery in Fort Plain, NY.

For three weeks they live in the brooder, warm & protected.

For five weeks they are in the pasture in open bottom “chicken tractors”. Each day the chicken tractors are moved by hand, to a new fresh piece of pasture. The birds eat grasses, legumes and insects along with their grains.

At 8 weeks, the birds are respectfully & humanly butchered here on the farm by us.

We butcher 100 birds once a month in June, July, August, September & October.
